

PRAYER and PRAISE POINTERS

FBH International

November 2019

Sunday — FBH International – With a very successful and encouraging conference behind us, we now look to the future of the ministry. Over the next few months, Stephen will be adjusting to his new responsibilities as president, Ron will be here for a little while longer to help and mentor Stephen, while Deborah will also be taking on some new duties during this time of change. Please pray for the staff of FBH.

Monday — Fish Studios – Nathan is finalizing the details with Fundacion Armonia to have his Spanish language program broadcast across their network of 50 FM stations that cover the entire country of Chile. These will be the first stations in the country of just over 18 million people broadcasting our programs. Nathan is also in talks with a second ministry, which could provide access to their network of over 1600 stations throughout South America and Europe.

Tuesday — FEBC Russia – Igor and Andrey have begun a series of FBH programs that are targeting young mothers in Russia. With the social climate in the country, this is a group that is often overlooked, yet are going through incredible change in their lives, and are looking for real, deeper answers. Their goal is to teach the women about Jesus, in a way that the mothers can use what they have learned to teach their children.

Saturday — FEBC Ukraine – Along with Russia and Ukraine, the FBH program is now being broadcast in the country of Moldova, a small nation in between Ukraine and Romania. FEBC now operates seven FM stations in the country. The programs, which are primarily broadcast in Russian, are essential in reaching a nation that deals with massive poverty, and battles high rates of human-trafficking type crime.

Wednesday — HopeStreamRadio – This month we begin to plan for the addition of new FBH programs to our daily lineup. These programs include gospel messages, focused around specific needs that are drawn out of research into what people are searching for online. Please join us in praying for those tasked with researching the most common needs of people looking for help, and those responsible for producing the programs.

Thursday — Arab World Media – It was such a blessing to have Firaz join us for our conference at the end of October. Throughout the weekend he shared many stories of the persecution that both new believers, and workers like Firaz and his team face daily. Please pray for the growing church in the Arab World, that as God is calling people to His Son, they would respond despite the heavy opposition they face, from society and their families.

Friday — Ministry Worker – Ray Marshall continues to serve as our social media planner, and is responsible for many of the posts that are shared on our Facebook, Twitter and Instagram accounts. The number of people coming to our sites and hearing our programs through our online networks has grown considerably over the last year. Along with this work, Ray is involved in many other ministries, pointing as many as he can to our Lord.
